Message From The Author

Hello. I'm Kevin Riley.

I have been an entrepreneur – building and running businesses since 1977. In 1994, I first started building websites and created my first commercial site in 1995.

Now, I run a number of online enterprises from my home in Osaka, Japan. The information product business allows me to travel with my lovely wife, Rieko, and run my business from anywhere in the world.

I started creating products in 1982. Then, I was creating physical products – board games, taper candles, wooden toy kits. It wasn't until the late 1990s that I realized that future profits lay in information products – books, audios, videos.

Now, I'm an entrepreneur who markets information – I'm an infopreneur. And, at Product Creation Labs, I help others to make their own money-making info products and succeed on the Internet.

Make Money Today With This Guide

You can start making money this very minute by sending people to the sales letter, using your custom URL. Then, when somebody buys, 100% of the payment goes directly into your PayPal account.

Get an e-mail out to your friends and colleagues today ... or put a link on your blog right now – watch those deposits start rolling into your PayPal account.

Don't miss out on this easy way to put some quick money into your PayPal account. It only takes a minute:

Step 1 – Replace "YourPayPal@EmailAddress.com" in the following URL with your own PayPal e-mail address:

<http://newbietoolkitaffiliate.com/?e=YourPayPal@EmailAddress.com>

Step 2 – Send the link to your mailing list.

Step 3 – Place the link on your blog or website

Before You Start

Affiliate marketing is simply this: Getting paid for recommending other people's products. Imagine standing out on the street during lunch hour – with a sandwich board and a handful of brochures. Each brochure is stamped with your name. When a customer goes to buy a Jumbo Hot Dog, the owner sees that you recommended the customer ... and you get a commission.

Online, affiliate marketing works the same. You tell a friend about a product (1), they go to the sales page (2), a sale goes through (3), and the company sends you a commission (4).

Register For Your Affiliate ID

The easiest place to get started in affiliate marketing is ClickBank. This is a large affiliate program network for a variety of digital products. Here, you'll be dealing with a reliable network that makes sure you get all your commissions.

To register and get your affiliate ID, go to:

The beginning signs of aggressive dog behavior is linked to the dog being aggressive as a puppy. So many people who own dogs make the mistake of seeing ferocious puppies as playful behavior. Before you know it, your cute little new puppy grows up to be a ferocious beast because owners failed to see the warning signs in the beginning.

When it comes to training a dog there exist many types of training methods which work very well. Some of these training methods though could actually make your dog show more aggression. It is very important that you learn the proper way to train your dog and you will be one hundred percent guaranteed to have a good relationship with your dog.

What To Do Before You Start Training

It is essential that you consult with a qualified dog professional with certification who can assist you in diagnosing your dog's problems. Many times it is the surrounding environment that has an impact on your dog's behavior, but it could also be linked to certain medical conditions. Speaking with a professional animal trainer or a vet can be helpful in getting you off too the right start with dog training for aggressive behavior. There are also many training courses and classes you can take for dog breed specific aggression.

The Right And Wrong Way For Training Aggressive Dogs

Sometimes you already know that your dog is very aggressive. As a responsible dog owner you have to take it upon yourself to take preventative measures. If you know your dog is overzealous and overly energetic, you should make sure that you keep him out of public places and away from people unless you are accompanied by a professional animal trainer. It is very important that you get your dog out of environments that may make him uncomfortable and anxious which can lead to very bad things happening.

One of the best techniques you can use to get rid of dog aggression is to get your dog socialized with other people and animals. As a precaution, if you decide to take on this method, you need to be sure that your dog is muzzled at all times. After time when you know that your dog is less anxious it can be taken off around people and animals.

Another step that you need to take before you start training for aggressive dogs is to spay or neuter. Doing this will lessen the aggressive behavior in your pet especially around other dogs. A good dog breeder will do this for you before you pick your dog up.

Punishment Is Not Acceptable

People assume that punishment is a good way to train your dog at first, but this is not correct. Punishing your dog when first attempting to train him will result in the dog being much more anxious and fearful which can lead to a biting incident or attack on someone. Hitting an animal can lead to more aggression and is counter productive.

What To Avoid When Training For Aggressive Behavior

Do not let your dog get use to belligerent behavior. When dogs get use to being aggressive it lets them become more dangerous and more domineering. Games like tug-of-war are not considered good because it is teaching the dog to be dominant over you.

At some point your dog is going to have to learn to obey commands. It is not good to constantly satisfy him because he will start to become dominant. Other things that will show your dog that you are the leader is making sure that he waits behind you and never let him finish eating before you are done with your meal. Your dog should also be at a point below you at all times and never above you.

Praise Is A Good Thing When The Time Is Right

When your canine begins to demonstrate good behavior it is time to start praising them for their actions. Canines are always satisfied with pleasing their owners and this is considered one of the best techniques for training aggressive dogs. As time goes on your dog will follow your every command and please you at will as long as you are fine with it.

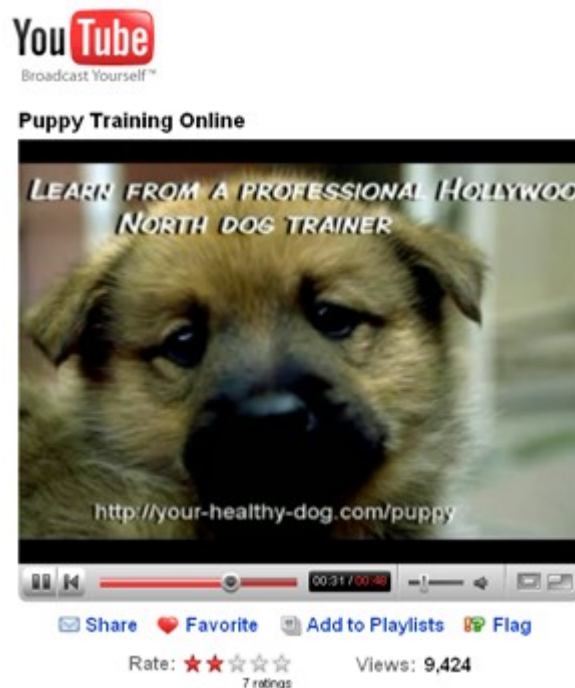

Just remember that training for aggressive dogs is a long process and you are going to need to have patience when getting started. Sometimes you might find that your first attempt at how to help an aggressive dog might not go as you want it to. Just give it some effort, have patience and show your dog love so you can be on your way to a lifetime of good obedience with your pet.
